

CALIFORNIA ROUNDTABLE ON PHILOSOPHY AND RACE

OCT 29-30

VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

DEDICATED TO CONVERSATION
AND RESEARCH ON PHILOSOPHY
AND RACE-RELATED ISSUES

FRIDAY OCTOBER 29TH, 2021

Opening Remarks - 9:30

Session One - 10am

Elvira Basevich, University of Massachusetts, Lowell
"The Shared Experience of Oppression"

Session Two - 11am

Corbin Covington, Northwestern University
"Black Utopias, Speculative Fiction, and Aesthetic Liberation: Where Blackness Goes to Die"

Session Three - 2pm

Nathifa Greene, Gettysburg College
"Mill After the Jamaica Committee: Rethinking the Malleability of Character
and the Rule of Law as Indirect 'Define and Rule' Colonialism"

Session Four - 3pm

Ernesto Rosen Velásquez, University of Dayton
"Anzaldúa as a Colonial Subject"

Memorial Session for Charles Mills - 5pm

Devonya Havis, University of Buffalo
Linda Martín Alcoff, CUNY / Hunter College
Larry Blum, University of Massachusetts Boston
José Jorge Mendoza, University of Washington

SATURDAY OCTOBER 30TH, 2021

Session Five - 10am

Miguel Gualdrón Ramírez, University of North Texas
"Fundamentals of Anti-Blackness in Latin American Thought"

Session Six - 11am

Michael Eng, Appalachian University
"The Chronopolitics of Race and the University in the Time of Ecological Crisis"

Session Seven - 2pm

Grant Silva, Marquette University
"The Race-Class Strategy and a Less Racist Future?"

Roundtable on the Status of Race in Philosophy, 3pm

Alia Al-Saji, McGill University
George Furlas, Hampshire College
Janine Jones, University of North Carolina, Greensboro
Eddy Souffrant, University of North Carolina Charlotte
Yolonda Wilson, St. Louis University

Please visit caroundtable.org for a more detailed program, including scheduled breaks and a list of session moderators.

Questions? Email us at crpr2012@gmail.com

PLEASE REGISTER AT CAROUMDTABLE.ORG

SPONSORED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF WOMEN'S, GENDER, AND SEXUALITY
STUDIES AND THE DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY AT EMORY UNIVERSITY